STATE CAPITOL BUREAU REPORTER

The Arkansas Democrat-Gazette is looking for an experienced, energetic reporter for a position on its state Capitol bureau.

The Democrat-Gazette, based in the capital city of Little Rock, has maintained a three-reporter bureau since the 1980s.

Our readers are intensely interested in news of state government and politics and those stories are among the most popular. Stories from the Capitol bureau often land on the front page and get good engagement on social media and on our website.

This bureau opening is for an enterprising journalist with a proven ability to write about politics, legislation, agencies, FOIA issues and anything else related to state government coverage. Our preference is for applicants who have a journalism degree and/or experience covering politics.

A plus would be an ability to handle large amounts of data, including in spreadsheets, and a knowledge of social media.

The Democrat-Gazette is known for its innovative program in which subscribers read today's edition on iPads. We also provide breaking news on our website, arkansasonline.com.

If you'd like to hear more about our opening or just want to submit your resume, please email Politics Editor Tony Holt at tholt@adgnewsroom.com.

The Arkansas Democrat-Gazette offers a comprehensive benefits package that includes paid vacation, holidays, sick leave, personal days, and parental leave. Employees can also access extensive health, dental, and vision insurance and long-term disability and retirement plans. Additionally, our Employee Assistance Program is available to provide support when needed.

Please note that this is a safety-sensitive position, and the candidate must pass drug tests, background checks and motor vehicle record screenings.

The Arkansas Democrat-Gazette is an equal opportunity employer and does not discriminate based on race, national origin, gender, sexual orientation, protected veteran status, disability, age or any other legally protected status.

Ads run free for members and students for six weeks.

Deadline is Tuesday 10 a.m.
