BUSINESS REPORTER

The Arkansas Democrat-Gazette has an opening for a business reporter to join our team in Little Rock.

This reporter would cover:

- Economic development initiatives throughout Arkansas, including job creation, investment, and infrastructure projects, and their effects on local communities.
- Arkansas' public banks and other financial institutions, including breaking news and in-depth stories about the industry.
- Local business, from startups to established businesses.
- A qualified applicant will have experience in reporting on financial institutions, regulatory bodies or economic development as well as strong analytical and investigative skills.

The candidate should have a demonstrated ability to interpret complex financial data and policy documents, translate complex information into clear and engaging stories, meet deadlines and work effectively in a breaking news environment; and experience with digital media and social media platforms.

A reporter in this position should have at least three years' experience covering business. This reporter also should know how to use a spreadsheet, develop sources and interview people, including in person. The reporter will work out of the Democrat-Gazette's Little Rock office.

A bachelor's degree in journalism is preferred but relevant experience and education is acceptable.

The Arkansas Democrat-Gazette offers an extensive benefits package that includes paid vacation, holidays, sick leave, personal days, and parental leave. Employees can access extensive health, dental, and vision insurance, as well as long-term disability and retirement plans. Additionally, our Employee Assistance Program is available to provide support when needed.

Please note that this is a safety-sensitive position. The candidate must pass drug tests, background checks and motor vehicle record screenings.

The Arkansas Democrat-Gazette is an equal opportunity employer and does not discriminate based on race, national origin, gender, sexual orientation, protected veteran status, disability, age or any other legally protected status.

MULTIMEDIA ACCOUNT EXECUTIVE

Banner News in Magnolia is hiring a Multimedia Account Executive who gets results. You'll build lasting partnerships with clients and help them grow their businesses across multiple platforms. We want someone who knows how to create strong business relationships and consistently delivers. You understand that clients come first. Your job is to create custom solutions that fit each client's needs. You'll design and launch fresh marketing strategies across different platforms. We don't just sell ad space; we tell stories that connect with the audiences our clients want to reach.

You're good at finding new sales opportunities with both new and current advertisers. You'll grow our client base through your initiative. You'll pitch to potential clients and show them why our display advertising and digital marketing work. You'll sell digital solutions and help clients succeed online. You'll attend sales and training sessions to keep up with industry changes and sharpen your skills.

Enjoy benefits such as paid vacation, holidays, sick leave, personal days, and parental leave. We prioritize your health with our comprehensive insurance coverage for health, dental, vision, and more. Plan for the future with long-term disability and retirement plans, and access additional support through our Employee Assistance Program when needed.

This role requires a commitment to safety. You'll need to pass drug screening and background checks, maintain a clean driving record, and follow our company driving policy.

Banner News is an equal-opportunity employer. We do not discriminate based on race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, age, genetic information, or any other legally protected class or status.
